Director of Education and Professional Development, Prolacta Bioscience

OPENING GENERAL SESSION

Evaluating Evidence and Inspiring Change: It's More Than Just a Phase....

Every day we are confronted by the changes in knowledge, practice, delivery, products, and devices in our clinical settings. The models of 'change theory' or 'how we change' are also evolving. Terry Johnson's opening address will invite you to look at the concept of "phase change" as a means to fuse emerging practice evidence with nursing's inherent obligation to always be pivoting toward optimal clinical outcomes.

GENERAL SESSION II

Addressing Vaccine Hesitancy in the Age of Dr. Google

With expertise in vaccine-related controversies and more than a decade of speaking with vaccine-hesitant NICU families, Dr. Monk Bodenstab knows how damaging it can be when the internet and social media are considered more reliable resources than health care professionals. By discussing the evidence behind neonatal vaccine controversies and demonstrating real-life strategies and resources for speaking with hesitant families, she will provide the tools necessary to empower neonatal nurses when dispelling vaccine-related myths on the front lines.

HEATHER MONK BODENSTAB,
PHARM.D.

Clinical Pharmacy Specialist, Newborn/Infant
Intensive Care Unit and Vaccine Education Center
at The Children's Hospital of Philadelphia

CLOSING GENERAL SESSION

Nurse Innovation: Redefining What is Possible for the Profession of Nursing

A nurse entrepreneur, inventor, TedX Speaker, and the first nurse featured on Ted.com, Rebecca Love is passionate about empowering nurses and creating communities to help nurses innovate, create, and collaborate to start businesses and inventions that transform healthcare. Nurses are natural innovators, we constantly "MacGyver" by the bedside and these innovations can have a huge impact on the future of healthcare. Come learn how you can cultivate a culture of innovation in your institution and redefine what's possible for nursing!

NANN AFTER DARK

NANN just wouldn't be the same without our annual soirée, especially this year as we celebrate our 35th anniversary! Pack your dancing shoes and everything blue for our all-attendee Night in NANN Blue!

“The creativity is amazing! Thanks to NANN for all the special touches!”

2019 PRECONFERENCE

Clinical Cases from the Newborn Nursery:
Learning from Never Events, Preventable NICU
Admissions, and Readmissions

4
CNE HOURS!

Join your colleagues to solve a series of real-world clinical cases with one unifying theme - they were initially labeled as “normal” newborns. This engaging session will challenge both your clinical and diagnostic skills and infuse a healthy dose of evidence aimed at helping you and your team improve the quality and safety of care for every newborn and prevent potentially preventable NICU admissions and hospital readmissions of newborns.

MADGE E. BUUS-FRANK
DNP, APRN-BC, FAAN

NEW THIS YEAR!

Addressing the learning needs of all neonatal nursing providers with designated tracks:
BEDSIDE/CLINICAL RN • APRN • EDUCATORS AND LEADERS

NANNP APRN SUMMIT

The National Association of Neonatal Nurse Practitioners' APRN Summit offers educational content on advanced neonatal care, specifically tailored to neonatal nurse practitioners and clinical nurse specialists.

KEYNOTE ADDRESS

Employing Cultural Humility
as a Standard of Care:
Addressing the Needs of LGBTQ Families in the NICU

Dr. Grayson is a public health advocate, anthropologist, and family nurse-midwife who has devoted her life to serving underserved and marginalized communities. She has more than 10 years of experience working in public health and nursing, and her work has focused on LGBTQ health, reproductive justice, birth justice, and midwifery. Using a reproductive justice framework to guide her work, Dr. Grayson shares the voices and perspectives of LGBTQ families and helps identify challenges and solutions to improve patient experiences in the NICU.

NIKIA GRAYSON,
DNP, MSN, MPH, CNM, FNP-C
